AA ChatNow Responders Wanted

AA ChatNow Australia is growing exponentially and we are looking for more frontline responders to join the already 30 AA members that volunteer their time to this great cause by connecting with others and the newcomer through this online platform and by carrying the message to the still sick and suffering.

Have you seen this little chat box on the AA Australia Website

ChatNow is an online platform run by fellow members of Alcoholics Anonymous (not by the GSO). We have been live on the AA Australia Website since November 1st, 2023. In that time we have responded to over 16,000 online chats and from those chats more than a third have been from newcomers reaching out to AA for the first time, on average we respond to 840 newcomer chats per month thus far. We believe that this platform has benefitted AA through having further reach to the still sick and suffering.

How can I be of service?

ChatNow currently runs between the hours of 10am and 10pm AEST- we hope to eventually expand these hours. We have at this stage 30 responders. If you are wanting a different kind of service position, want to help carry the message through an online platform or are unable to attend face to face meetings to be of service this could be a great position for you.

Requirements

A desktop, iPad or Laptop and basic computer literacy. A minimum sobriety length of 2 years and a clear and thorough understanding of the 12 Steps and the 12 Traditions. Service Guidelines ask for availability of 4 hours per week per responder this is broken down to two 2 hour shifts per week. All training will be provided.
